United States Fashion Industry Association (USFIA)

Member since: Oct 2015

USFIA represents the fashion industry: textile and apparel brands, retailers, importers, and wholesalers based in the United States and doing business globally. USFIA was founded in 1989 with the goal of eliminating the global apparel quota system, USFIA works to eliminate tariff and non-tariff barriers that impede the industry's ability to trade freely and create economic opportunities in the United States and abroad. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., USFIA is the voice for the fashion industry in front of the US government as well as international governments and stakeholders. Through our publications, educational events, and networking opportunities, USFIA also connects with key stakeholders across the value chain including US and international service providers, suppliers, and industry groups.
